How can we improve the quality of water in the Okanagan?

That's the topic up for discussion at a public forum Monday morning, in recognition of UN World Water Day.

Anna Warwick Sears with the Okanagan Basin Water Board says a panel of speakers will talk about what can impact water quality, and how we can protect it:

"How do we think about how pollution in one community affects another community? What can we all do together to improve water quality for everyone?"

Monday's public forum goes from 10:30am to noon at the Manteo Resort. Seating is limited - and will be done on a first come, first served basis.
