The Site

The McCulloch Lake Resort parcel was purchased in 2005. Although zoned for Fifty units, a decision was made to only put in Twenty Seven Luxury Log Homes. We realize the need for space in our wilderness resort.

The Owner wanted to ensure that McCulloch Lake Resort retained the natural element. He wanted to harness what

This is why each unit is equipped with GeoThermal, Grey Water Recycling, and made of the finest wood from Surelog.

We are proud of what we are accomplishing here, and we know that you would be proud to live here.

A Natural Setting

McCulloch Lake Resort ensures the high standards and qualitative construction through our partnership with Surelog Homes Limited.

Twenty seven opportunities await for those who wish to reside in the lap of natural luxury. Residing at a mid point between Kelowna and Big White, McCulloch Lake Resort is going to fast become the natural hotspot you wish you lived in.

Imagine surrounding yourself in the natural materials of a professionally constructed log home. With a nearby lake front, forest and trails, it's always nice to have the tranquility and strength of aged wood to shelter yourself when needed.

With each of our twenty seven units being manufactured by Surelog Homes Ltd., we are confident that we have the finest homes you can build from natural materials. This, coupled with our every effort to reduce the impact we have on our surroundings, means McCulloch Lake Resort will stay as much a part of nature as possible. Geo thermal heating, grey water recycling, and a reduced number of units on the parcel, all help to ensure that McCulloch Lake Resort's natural impact is minimized.

Each home is so equipped and additionally, each unit features an open plan concept, multiple floors, spacious
