

Osoyoos Times

EARLY-BIRD DEADLINE FOR WATER FORUM IS AUG. 15

Posted on 12 August 2011 by admin

OSOYOOS TIMES-August 12, 2011

Early-bird registration for the 2011 Osoyoos Lake Water Science Forum ends on Monday, Aug. 15.

The forum takes place from September 18 to 20 in Osoyoos and is being offered at a discount to residents of Osoyoos, Oliver and Oroville, with some portions being free.

To register before the early-bird deadline, go to www.obwb.ca/olwsf/.

The forum will be attended by elected officials from Canada and the U.S. as well as scientists and water utility staff from B.C. and Washington state.

The forum, presented by the Okanagan Basin Water Board, the Town of Osoyoos, the International Joint Commission and several other partners, will cover numerous water issues affecting the Okanagan Valley and Okanagan County in Washington, including the management of lake levels and milfoil.