The Flower Power Garden Tour returns this week to the Central Okanagan, giving local green thumbs a chance to explore nine incredible gardens in West Kelowna and Kelowna.

The self-guided tour is designed for both beginner and advanced gardeners with experts available to answer questions along the way. Some gardens featured in the tour are decades in maturity while others are acres in size and feature a wide variety of plants and ideas.

Gardening expert Ken Salvail of Okanagan Xeriscape Association, Okanagan Master Gardeners, Border Free Bees, and Okanagan Waterwise will be on site to answer any questions.

The gardens will also be hosting members of the artist community including grapevine weaving artist Annabel Stanley, textile artist Andrea Pyle, Alex Fong, Daniel Dearborn, Gail Hodgson, Linda Lovisa, Susan Neilson and Mohawk First Nations artist Lee Claremont.

Funds raised by the event support Chefs in the Classroom - edible education, an initiative of the Okanagan Chefs Association teaching grade three students to grow, cook and eat local foods.

The event runs June 18 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Tickets are available online at www.flowerpowerlw.com for $40.

Flower Power - Kelowna Garden Tour
